Grill covers keep rain, snow, sleet and other moisture from getting into your grill. New grills are highly unlike to rust, but sensitive elements on high-tech grills, like temperature gauges, don't need moisture in them. By fitting snugly around your grill, your cover ensures that lawn chemicals or other outdoor pollutants can't harm the finish.

Parts appear to be well made and sturdy. However, while they were a good replacement unit, installing them was a whole different matter! Depending on your BBQ unit (I had a Sonoma BBQ from Costco) getting the burners into the correct position required great patience and resolve, and a lot of jamming of the new burners into very tight spaces.
