Falling Bodies, a 9/11 Image Etched in Pain - The New York ...

The Falling Man is a photograph taken by Associated Press photographer Richard Drew of a man falling from the World Trade Center during the September 11 attacks in New York City. The subject of the image, whose identity was revealed in a TV documentary, was one of the people trapped on the upper floors of the North Tower who either fell searching for safety or jumped to escape the fire and smoke.

1. When Dana first met Kevin, she was working for a casual labor agency - which the regulars called the "slave market," even though it was the opposite of slavery. She goes into the office every day at 6 am to see if she has a job that day, accepting jobs that require menial labor for minimum wage where the more mindless the worker is, the better.
